Steam and soot darken the skies above the city of Flint, and winds sweeping across its majestic harbor blow the choking products of industrial forges into the fey rainforests that dot its knife-toothed mountains. Since the earliest ages when the people of Risur founded this city, they feared the capricious beings that hid in those fog-shrouded peaks, but now, as the march of progress and the demands of national defense turn Flint into a garden for artifice and technology, the old faiths and rituals that kept the lurkers of the woods at bay are being abandoned.

The Unseen Court, the Great Hunt, and the many spirits of the land long ago conquered by Risur’s kings no longer receive tribute, but they cannot enter these new cities of steam and steel to demand their tithe. The impoverished workers who huddle in factory slums fear monsters of a different breed, shadowy children of this new urban labyrinth. Even their modern religions have no defenses against these fiends.

Times are turning. The skyseers – Risur’s folk prophets since their homeland’s birth – witness omens in the starry wheels of heaven, and they warn that a new age is nigh. But what they cannot foresee, hidden beyond the steam and soot of the night sky, is the face of this coming era, the spirit of the new age.

The zeitgeist.
How It Works.

When you purchase your Silver Subscription at EN World, you will receive access to the PDFs automatically as soon as they are released. These will appear in the Subscribers’ Content area at EN World, and will also be announced on the EN World news page and in the EN World newsletter. The first part of the subscription (the Intro Pack and the first adventure) will arrive in Spring 2011, with the others following throughout 2011 and 2012.

Please see our website and messageboard for support and questions, both to be found at www.enworld.org/ap/zeitgeist.html.

We will be releasing both D&D 4th Edition and Pathfinder RPG versions of this adventure path. Each version will differ somewhat according to that system’s inherent assumptions, but the overall story will remain the same. You will have access to both versions via your subscription, allowing you to use whichever you wish.

We will be releasing previews on EN World leading up to the release, available free to everyone.

Visit www.enworld.org for previews, discussion boards, and more!
