

"You should probably grab destiny..."

We flash in front of the keep.

Alarm goes up. Barnabus quite calm.

Asks to speak to the Count

Lord Marmion sent for.

Anvil gives archers a whittling stone.

Marmion tells B. we're wanted for crimes + piracy

"Are you getting to open up?"

"Captain, open up."

And the battle is joined.

1/ Kiarra flies to safer position, hiding out of sight.

Ryan sled storm. → sudden blizzard over the corner of the keep.

L. Marmion sings rousing battle song, moves off wall.

Troops: (only headshot hits)

A few make it out of the sled storm

Others backed up @ ladder. One falls inside.

While stones <sup>(clunks)</sup> cast s/t

Wormage we can see, casts. Spear of ice stabs B's leg.

Tosty "knock" door open, not all the way open.

Anvil uses ring to bull rush one wormage off wall. (not he just got out of the sled storm too)

Thatch runs for the wall leaps up and pulls himself up onto wall ground apart he only has X-bow and can't AOO

Woody gets set to protect B.

Barn casts confusion on clink of guards behind gate.

(catches some fallen wormage, poor guy)

(The cry of "Scatter you fools!" comes too late.)

Tries to usher order, officer in confusion babbles w/ authority