

Unto the Mouth

From the eyes in Debonai

Honored Mouth, we believe that the body should be aware that 3 attempts have been made on the royal compound in the last 2 weeks. The Royal Household of His Majesty King Athelstan the Younger is playing these off as one-offs - but our analysis is that they are part of a concerted effort, though we have not been able to establish by whom. None of the noble houses seem to be involved, but the people are coming from within Debonai itself. All of the assassins but one were slain in their attempt. The final one however escaped, and we have been able to trace him to what appears to be a safe house.

We need direction from you honored mouth as to how to proceed.
