

Unto Commander Strawberry

Command -

We are concerned at the sudden increase we are seeing in the use of Krrf. Its been gone since before the elven princess came here. Not only is it prevalent again after so long when it was barely seen but we believe after study that some of it is poisoned and some of it has been wierded.

The guard has been picking up about 50 a week through the poor quarter and throwing them in the clink. Not enough to normally inform his Grace - but in this case we think maybe you should. This spread has been sudeen and we don't know how its wierded. Maybe we could talk to Dame Asmerelda about it and show her some of the krrf we've seized and some of the guys. She knows about witchy stuff, maybe she can tell what's up.
