

Unto the Mouth
From the Gates Knee

As it pleases you honored Mouth -- I thought it time to report in a bit more detail. The ankle beneath me, who has access to the Palace of Ways as a member of ambassadorial staff is aware that there are struggles ongoing that may reflect the possibility that West Gate or at least a portion of West Gate and its subservient houses minor may have been corrupted - and that a purge is now ongoing. As you may well be aware, our toes were largely relegated to useless positions some time ago in West Gate, although we have no reason to think that they were compromised. We have heard from a particular toe recently that the purge will result in a cleaner West Gate.

However, there is also a small possibility that there is a deeply buried cabal in other Gates here which the justice system will not be able to ferret out. This knee believes that it is to the advantage of our principles that the body's presence here do whatever it can to intervene on behalf of the established order.

Of course the ultimate game - though I do not think that it is being played - would be to use this as a total blind to get us or other foreign services active here - to reveal our hand to a "master puppeteer."

Please give us guidance via the usual method.

Loyalty, service and sacrifice unto death - in the Light.
