

Խո ԼԻ՛՛՛՛ ԼՇԽԻ՛՛ Խո ԼՈ՛՛՛ Խո ԿՂՈ՛՛՛՛՛՛՛

Unto his Most Dreadful and Sovereign Majesty, Emperor of Southern Drucien, Archduke of Canberry, Champion of God Glor'diadel, Knight of the Blue Flame, Ruler of the Heights and Depths, Alastair and his boon companions and court.

Greetings:

It is my most earnest desire that in 11 days time from the moment of the delivery of this missive, you receive into your court and onto your bosom with all due ceremony, taking into account that she is mourning, my distant cousin and friend Lady Anarie' Aufaugauthala'rim. The wife of the late Du'ulin Curinirim, 2nd of that name, and mother of Du'ulin Curinirim 3rd of the name as well as Minsi Curinirim and a 3rd, yet unborn and unnamed.

With her Anarie' brings the blessings of the House of Aufaugauthala'rim and the recognition of her father, the House Lord, of your position as Emperor of Southern Drucien. With his imprintetuer even House Gol'dur'im will be hesitant to take action against you on behalf of its mad ruler, should he so desire.. It will open many doors for you and for the hope of the South.

Her other intentions are not yet known, save that she will bring you no harm. She comes in great sorrow. A lady of the highest blood imaginable, and yet greatly fertile, she bore two children for her husband and yet lived. Now she bears a third, within herself, and brings them both to your door, and she may even survive this pregnancy as well. Since her husband's death however, she is quite fey.

Anything more is hers to tell you and the court - but I would count it a personal favor if you would receive her in the warmest way that you can.

Princess Curini'rim
City of Enclaves